...our President

As we begin the "new year" for our church, I would like to thank those who served on our various boards and those of you who volunteered to serve on our boards going forward. Without our congregation's willingness to serve on these boards, it would be a challenge to have our church function properly.

To Paul Ramberg, over the past 20+ years you have selflessly volunteered your time and effort as our church Sexton. I'm not sure many people in our congregation even know what a Sexton is or what a Sexton does within a church, I certainly did not. As the Sexton, he was responsible for coordinating every burial at our cemeteries. This encompassed the sale of plots, supervising the interment process, and among other things, ensuring proper monuments and seasonal items are used. On top of that he graciously offered to mow both cemeteries and the rest of our church grounds. I want to express my gratitude for all your hard work mowing our cemeteries and caring for those grounds.

We are very fortunate to have Willy and Carol Zevenbergen offer to replace Paul Ramberg as our church Sexton. Thank you so much for your willingness to step in when the need presented itself. This is one of the many reasons our church and congregation is so amazing. When a need presents itself, there are always people willing to step up and offer their time and talents if necessary. So, Willy and Carol, thank you so much for offering to be our new Sextons.

On the topic of mowing our church grounds and cemeteries, there are a few members speaking and connecting to ensure our church grounds and cemeteries will remain cared for and mowed when necessary. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Respectfully submitted, Jim Hauschild Jr

"Let's Take It From the Top." Restart!

It was the season of Winter Olympics. Watching speed skating, we saw a number of "false starts" where the athletes left the starting line too early and would have to return to the line for a restart. Like the Olympics, our church ministry is having to restart.

The Board of Stewardship met on a Sunday morning between services. The board was having a conversation about the direction our ministries will take for the next few years. The conversation started because the board had asked our congregation to respond to the question, "What's next?" Our congregation put so much effort in completing the debt payments to the point that parts of our mission focus appeared to be sidelined. Maybe it would be good for us to restart and to redefine our focus. The responses were mixed, but it seemed that most of them revolved about us doing things together, like we used to do.

Also, at the February Bible Study meeting with our "Peace Women," a question was raised about the future of "the church." This was not a question about our church but of the churches all over the nation that news reports had noted were currently not very active or even not active at all. Was I concerned about the future of the church? Has the church been de-commissioned? Have we lost our influence in the community and the world?

Admitted, these past couple years have been radically different than anything we ever imagined. We continue to gather in person again in smaller numbers. A number of people join us remotely, with many from across the nation who are watching and receiving an encouraging word. Local individuals view our services, but can we help them feel like they are connected to our ministry? And how can we connect with those who join us from home, whose health has been compromised, so that they feel an active part in our ministry?

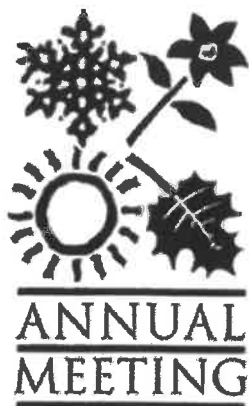

My response is that we need to regroup and focus our ministry and mission on the things we have done and find new ways and new events to involve others to join us, not only in worship but in mission. I feel that we need to start over – with everything!! So, let's start with Ash Wednesday and Lent. Last year we didn't offer a meal on Wednesdays during Lent. This year, we will offer the Soup Supper again, BUT we will serve soup with bread or crackers – not a smorgasbord of foods but a simple meal. Also, like Jesus said to Martha, "Leave the dishes." [Okay that's a real loose translation, but I hope you get the point.] We will worship as soon as we are done serving and we will clean up later.

For people who are unable to gather with us, consider joining with us through the livestream of our services, but also consider asking a friend or family member to join in a bowl of soup, a shared worship, and a prayer on their way. It would limit the size of your gathering, but it might expand our mission with small group fellowship!

So, we have a beautiful kitchen with equipment to spare - let's use it. We can prepare soups and breads (or crackers) on the days prior to Wednesday. If you want to help, just check in, we will be making things for people to enjoy when they are able to assemble. Then, we sure could use some kind helpers to put the soup in a bowl and a slice of bread on the side. We will serve starting at 5:45 and will break for worship at 6:30. Pauline Wangen will be here to keep our projects up to code and health standards! Will you join us in this project?

Ash Wednesday is March 2, and Lent continues March 9, March 16, March 23, March 30, and April 6. I hope you will consider sharing the meal with us or will share the service with others in your home. I hope you will participate in our Restart! More will come from this simple meal and gathering because we will continue as a Community in Mission for Christ! Ready? Let's go!

PEACE, PASTOR JOHN'S PEN

BOARD of DEACONS February 20, 2022

Present: Robert, Josh, Wes, Joy and Sharon.

Deacon schedule for March was set-up.

Four Sundays plus Ash Wednesday.

Ideas were discussed which will encourage members to, once again, start volunteering their help with communion and reading the scriptures. Joy volunteered to set-up a short slide show to run on the TV in the narthex and possibly on the big screen in the sanctuary. It was also discussed putting the sign-up sheets back up in the narthex as a visual reminder to members that their assistance is needed. Sharon will put up new sign-up sheets and monitor.

Also discussed was the issue of whether or not it is an appropriate time to once again move the communion portion of our services back into the service with the benediction being the end of the service.

Sharon volunteered to be council representative for all council meetings unless unable to attend. Next meeting date is March 20, 2022, 9:15 a.m.
